DISTRICT 2 DARRIN & ALLISON KRUGER WESLEY

Darrin and Allison Kruger are the Young Farmer Advisory Committee representatives from District 2 in North Central Iowa. They farm just outside of Wesley, IA. Darrin graduated from Iowa State with a degree in Agricultural Systems and Technology. Allison graduated from Olivet Nazarene University with a degree in dietetics.

Darrin grew up on the family farm and his dream became a reality when he started farming in 2007. Allison grew up in Rochester, and was introduced to farm-life when she and Darrin were dating. Allison really learned what farming was all about when they were married in 2014, and she moved from the suburbs of Chicago to small-town Iowa. She is still learning what it means to be a "farm wife" and supporting Darrin in this role.

Darrin works with his parents and brother on the family farm. They raise corn, soybeans and hogs. Darrin has started custom application of hog manure, a business he is working to expand as time allows. Allison works at the local hospital, Hancock County Health System, where she is the dietary director and inpatient dietitian.

Darrin and Allison enjoy downhill skiing, water sports, biking, camping, county/state fairs and exploring new places. In their spare time they keep busy with multiple projects, especially after purchasing and remodeling an acreage a few miles from the home farm. Darrin and Allison are also involved in their church activities, and Darrin is treasurer for the Hancock County Farm Bureau.
