

YFAC

Spotlight

DISTRICT 7

BRETT & HANNAH JOHNSON BLOOMFIELD

Brett and Hannah live south of Bloomfield in Davis County and represent District 7. Brett and Hannah own and operate a club lamb flock, and sell lambs to 4-H and FFA exhibitors throughout the country. They also manage a small commercial cow herd. Off the farm, Brett is a District Sales Manager for Stine Seed Company and Hannah is the Ag Instructor and FFA Advisor at Moulton-Udell High School. They also help Hannah's father with his row crop and cattle operation.

Hannah has been an active member of the Davis County Farm Bureau Board for five years. Brett has been on the board for two years. The Johnsons are also involved with the Davis County Sheep Producers and spend time volunteering with the Davis County Fair. Brett coaches the Davis County 4-H and FFA Livestock Judging teams and Hannah enjoys coaching her Moulton-Udell FFA members. Brett and Hannah both enjoy traveling around the state and judging showmanship and livestock shows at county fairs throughout the summer. When they are not judging, they enjoy helping local youth with their livestock projects.

Brett and Hannah both attended Iowa State University and enjoy watching Cyclone athletics. They also enjoy supporting the Moulton-Udell Eagles and Davis County Mustangs in numerous athletic events. Hannah is also the varsity volleyball coach for the Eagles. They both enjoy spending time with friends and family. Brett likes to go golfing and has found a hobby in auctioneering. Hannah enjoys baking, photography, and Pinterest projects.

