

2019 ANNUAL MEETING

PEOPLE. PROGRESS. PRIDE.

bio:

Ken Iverson is co-owner of Iverson Family Farms. He also is a co-owner of Wooden Shoe Tulip Farm and FSOil (a hemp extraction company). Ken is a graduate from Oregon State University and a proud farmer ever since. His farm has grown over 100 different crops over the years with Ken attending to the agronomic needs. His current venture into industrial hemp started in 2016 and CBD oil extraction in 2017 with Ken leading the charge in many of the current growing and extraction practices now used in the industry.

Whether its plant spacing, disease concerns, plant nutrition, harvesting, drying or oil production, Ken has been involved with it all.
