GET TO KNOW THE LANMANS

Matt and Hilary Lanman live on a farm between Hedrick and Fremont in Southeast Iowa, where they were both born and raised. They're raising their son, Joseph, who keeps them busy with sports, 4-H, livestock shows, band, camps, and kids' church activities. On the farm, the Lanmans raise meat goats and chickens. In the fall, they run a farm stand with pumpkins and mums. They enjoy growing a variety of pumpkins. They're also in the early stages of starting a tree nut farm in partnership with Matt's brother. Off the farm, Matt works for Nutrien Ag Solutions, while Hilary serves as a State Soil Technician with IDALS in partnership with NRCS. The couple has been longtime attendees of the Young Farmer Conference. Hilary has also traveled to China on a Farm Bureau market tour, helps with Ag in the Classroom, and has competed in the Discussion Meet—earning a spot as a finalist in the past!
